1959 Homecoming Queen Begins Reign, 10 Tonight

Freshman Elections Today

Election of president, vice-president, and secretary of the Freshman class will be held today. The election booth will be located on first floor of the Kirby Student Center. In order for the freshman to cast his ballot, he must have with him his student activity card. The Freshman class officers are not only representatives of their class to the general public, but they are also voting members of the UMD-SA. Great care should be exercised that the freshman elect to office only those students who will be a credit to the Freshman class and the UMD-SA. Your vote is needed and does count!

Filing the academic division representatives will be held on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, Oct. 19, 20. The election will be held on Thursday and Friday, Oct. 22 and 23. There are openings for three representatives from each academic division of Education and Psychology, Social Sciences, Science and Math, and the Humanities. These positions are open only to upperclassmen, who are majoring in the division they wish to represent. The candidate must also have a C average. Filing notices may be picked up at the Student Activities Desk.

Vice-president Duncan Steinhall will call to order the UMD-SA meeting on Thursday, Oct. 22, at 6:30 p.m. in room 330 of the Kirby Student Center. On the agenda for the meeting are confirmation of the Organization and Leadership Development Commissioners, final approval of the Homecoming budget, the treasurer's report, president's report on the M.S.A. convention at the University of Illinois, a report by the M.S.A. commissioner on his Cuban trip, and ratification of the by-laws by the assembly.

SA-Assembly Has Opening

President Tom Kraus is at present looking for a student to assume the office of Commissioner of Leadership Development. This office covers a wide range of activities. If you are at all interested, contact President Tom Kraus immediately.

At the executive council meeting of last Tuesday, the Council recommended approval of a budget of $500 for the Kirby Student Center Committee for social events of the school year. This budget will need the approval of the Assembly.

Pat Dargis, business manager of the Homecoming Committee, reported that they are in good financial condition this year; something that has not been heard of for years. If the students do not support the Homecoming Committee, they can blame no one but themselves if the event is not a success.

President Tom Kraus has tentatively appointed Jan Gregory as Commissioner of Organization. This appointment must be ratified by the Assembly.

There was a statement made at the Executive meeting about the possibility of starting school two weeks earlier to allow an extra week of vacation at Christmas-time and an extra week of vacation at the end of the spring quarter. This will be taken up at a later meeting.

Another idea brought up was that of discount cards for the married students on campus. This will be brought up at a later meeting.

Tuesday, October 13, is UMD-SA night, and the UMD-SA is looking forward to seeing a big crowd.

CARLOS MONTOYA ON CAMPUS

Free tickets are available to students for the Carlos Montoya concert. Montoya, a noted guitarist, will present his concert Nov. 12. Seven hundred student tickets are available, and all the students have to do to get his ticket is to present his activity card at the Kirby Center activities desk, at which time he will have his card punched. Tickets may be obtained from October 5th to the 11th.

CARS, CARS AND MORE CARS

According to Ole Wendfeldt, campus police officer, there have been over 1,400 cars parked on the UMD campus at a given time. The busiest time is Monday morning with Wednesday and Friday running close behind. Due to adequate planning a real parking problem does not exist.

Changes Made

This year two major changes have been made in the U.M.D. library to facilitate the increasing number of students.

The major improvement is the moving of the periodicals from the third floor of the library to the second floor. This puts the periodicals nearer to the index and makes it easier for students working on themes and research papers.

The second change is the creation of a library reading room from Rooms 134-128, formerly a double classroom. Students may use library materials here if they first check them out at the main desk. Talking is permitted so that students who wish to study together may do so.

Frat to Meet

Phi Alpha Theta, UMD honorary history fraternity, will hold its first meeting of Fall quarter on Tuesday, October 13, at 7 p.m. in 356 Kirby Student Center.

Dr. Maude Lindquist will speak about her trip to Canada this summer. Committee assignments will be given, and all members are urged to attend.

Fulbright Scholarships

Students graduating in 1960 who wish to study abroad, should investigate the possibility of obtaining a Fulbright Scholarship. These scholarships established by Public Law 584, 79th Congress, are under the auspices of the Board of Foreign Scholarships and the Department of State as the coordinating agency. Over 1,000 of these scholarships are awarded each year.

Applications from UMD are forwarded early in October to the Dean of the Graduate School, Minneapolis Campus. They are evaluated and forwarded to an All-Minnesota Committee which further evaluates the nominations and forwards them to the Institute of International Education. Students not enrolled at any college or university may submit their applications directly to the Institute of International Education. They are evaluated and forwarded early in October to the Dean of the Graduate School, Minneapolis Campus. Nominees for the 1960 Playboy All-Star Jazz Poll are being announced in the magazine's October issue. There are 548 nominees in 16 categories from which the reader may choose. Deadline for the 1960 poll is November 1, and winners will be announced in Playboy's February issue.

Jazz Poll

Winning artists will be featured in the fourth Playboy Jazz All-Stars LP album. Winners will also receive the Playboy Jazz Medallion and the right to appear at next year's Playboy Jazz Festival.

Placement News

For the general information of all students and staff, but particularly for seniors and others who plan to graduate this year, the following brief description of the UMD Placement Bureau may be helpful and, we hope, interesting.

STUDENTS WHO ARE PLANNING TO GRADUATE THIS YEAR AND WHO DID NOT COMPLETE A BLUE CARD DURING FALL QUARTER REGISTRATION MATERIAL, WE PLAN TO MAIL THIS MATERIAL TO ALL REGISTERED IDENTIFIED METHODS OF EDUCATION COURSES.

Regardless of your advanced graduation; marriage, service, graduate school, etc., every senior should establish a confidential placement credential file before leaving the campus. If you have questions about this, contact the Placement Bureau (Mr. Johnston), by appointment, during the fall quarter. All placement materials should be returned to the office before Dec. 15.

UMD PLACEMENT BUREAU FUNCTIONS—A BRIEF DESCRIPTION

1. The counseling, education and guidance of seniors, alumni and other students concerning their beginning career choice(s), job interview, and application procedures and techniques, factors involved in job change, transfer or advancement, and other occupationally related problems.

2. Any UMD student who desires part-time work may contact the Placement Bureau for assistance. The majority of these types of jobs are not only part-time, but also short-term, and they may last only a few hours, days or weeks. A smaller number of such jobs may be permanent through the school year. About 800 to 700 part-time jobs are filled by UMD students each year.

Liaison Committee on Education

Teacher preparation, its methods and its philosophy, has been a much-discussed topic late on the UMD campus, as well as on the campuses of many other universities, in the offices of trained research people, in the pages of Life and other leading magazines, and at the meetings of our country's scholars. Should our future teachers be required to devote their entire time to their major field of study, or are the new required methodologies of education courses just as essential to professional education as they are to successful teaching? This is just one of the controversial questions involved in the complex study of the ills of today's educational system, and it is this question which has served as the groundwork for the development of a relatively new UMD committee, the Liaison Committee on Teacher Education.

The above mentioned committee is a faculty committee with no formal status; it is not a pro-voct-approved group; it has no powers other than to try to get a better education and to present a report to the various departments involved.

Since students preparing for the attainment of a teaching certificate in any of science degree are not concerned only with meeting their requirements in the field of education, but must also delve into their major field of study, be it English, chemistry, or political science, every one of the departments on this campus are inevitably involved. Thus, this faculty committee is composed of two representatives from each division. Science and Mathematics is represented by Dr. Olga Au-lang, biology, and Dr. Passer, chemistry; Education and Psychology by Dr. Gladstone, psychology, and Dr. Crawford, education; Humanities, by Dr. Pierce, speech; Social Science by Dr. Lindquist, history, and Dr. Schmidt, sociology. The humanities department at this moment has but one representative due in the recent resignation of Dr. Progro.

The need for this committee became apparent after repeated criticism of the lack of challenge in professional education courses. The committee, soon after organization, sent to the faculty members a form on which they could mark down aspects of this complaint which bothers them, and after the report was submitted, no tabulation of the results has been made.

Since this is a new committee, and since, also, it is based on the attainment of a teaching certificate in any of the sciences degree, the committee members were reluctant to give their own opinion on the primary question, for there has not been enough investigation to warrant opinion.

The committee's next meeting is scheduled for Oct. 20, with Mr. Fred Heineman, an authority on teacher certification from the Minnesota Department of Education, to be present for further discussion and the consideration of suggestions and possible improvements.

Frisco Convention Returns

August 6-11 the National Convention of Sigma Alpha Iota, honorary fraternity for women with a major or minor in music, was held in San Francisco.

Mary Ann Quayle, senior music major from Bemidji, was the official delegate from the Iota Psi chapter at UMD.

Birthday Celebration

The UMD Alumni Association "baby" will celebrate its second birthday October 17, Homecoming Saturday.

Some 3,000 alumni of UMD and Duluth State Teachers College are receiving letters of welcome to the noon luncheon meeting, which will come at the climax of week-long festivities. Roy H. Thompson, association founding president, is sending these letters on behalf of the club, which was officially organized last year through action of a "Committee of Forty."

"An announcement of magni-tude" awaits alumni gathered at Kirby for this 12:15 luncheon. Alumni will also elect several new members to the board of directors.

"Challenges to the Social Sciences," an address on the dedication of the new Social Science Building, will be delivered by Malcolm M. Wylie, Main University vice president of academic administration.

Tickets to this luncheon will be mailed upon receipt of $1.50 per person at the UMD Alumni office.

Classes of 1949 and 1954 are to be honored this year. Bruce H. Warren, Duluth, now of San Francisco, headed the "Forty Niners." President of the '54 class was Richard Wayne Olas-kangas, Warba, now of Columbia, Missouri.

His talk, concerning the importance of stereochemistry in the inorganic field, is open to the public.

KUMD Changes Managers

Charles Bremer was named KUMD-FM manager September 30 by Dr. Robert Haakenson, head of the UMD Department of Speech and Hearing.

Holmer, a junior majoring in speech, has worked for several months on the staff of WJJK at Cloquet. He succeeds Lauren Sandquist, who was manager of the old carrier station KUMD and who now is employed by KDAL-TV.

Other appointments made were: Pat Busch, Hurley, Wis., junior, was named assistant station manager; David Gustafson, Duluth, junior, and David Andrew Eriksen, Duluth, junior, program directors.

Peat Research

Cooperating for the fifth straight year in carrying out a gigantic peat research project are the Chemistry Department, U.M.D.; the State School of Agriculture, St. Paul; and the University of Minnesota, Minneapolis, under the auspices of the Iron Range Resources and Rehabilitation Commission.

The purpose of these studies has been to find out more information about peat, as well as new commercial uses for it. Experts believe that if Minnesota's more than five million acres of peat land can be utilized, a new giant industry can be provided for this area.

Under the leadership of Dr. Moses Pasner, new procedures for analyzing peat have been derived which enable all the bog-lands in the state to be accurately charted. Presently experiments are being conducted to develop procedures for determining the various functional groups of peat. Gerald Bratt of U.M.D., and Ronald Glen of the University of South Dakota are both active in this field.

Studies on peat derivatives are being made by Bruce Torp, who is attending Iowa State.

Active in the field of chromatography, the study of proteins and carbohydrates in peat, is Lawrence Friedman, a junior and U.M.D. science major.

Doing research on the changes in the cellulosic in peat is Frank Fuglist, also of U.M.D.

Richard Erickson, another U.M.D. student, is working on solvent extractions of peat derivatives.

Incidentally, all of these students are either attending U.M.D. or recent graduates.

Miller Orchestra Here

The Glenn Miller orchestra is still playing the magnificent, universally accepted music of the original master, Mr. Miller himself. This has been accomplished by Ray McKinley, the present director. Ray was the drummer in the original Miller Band and because of his close personal friendship with Glenn, was able to carry on in the true Miller tradition.

The Miller sound is something personal to the millions who have thrilled to it. Glenn's liquid reeds with the unique clarinet lead, the ohh-wah brass, the romantic ballads, the jumping swing numbers and the imaginative melodies all combined to win billions of fans the world over... and to hold them, too! This show will be a complete variety show and will try to tell in music, "The Glenn Miller Story." All of the many tunes that made him famous will be heard and authentic Miller arrangements will be used. In the show the sound will be the same that skyrocketed him to the top, and will try to tell in music. "The Glenn Miller Story." All of the many tunes that made him famous will be heard and authentic Miller arrangements will be used. In the show the sound will be the same that skyrocketed him to the top. The Glenn Miller Orchestra for this concert will be the MODERNAIRES. This group was one of the original Miller vocal groups with the Miller Band and is currently featured as one of the top acts in television. They have spent the summer with star billing on the Tony Bennett Show on Saturday nights over NBC-TV. They're one of the top acts in show business.

Music in the true Miller tradition will be the theme of the entire concert. One of the featured acts in the show will be THE MODERNAIRES, who at one time sang with the original Mr. Miller. One of the most versatile singing acts in show business, they have just spent the summer on the Tony Bennett Show, which is the Perry Como replacement show on Saturday nights over NBC-TV. Nostalgia will be the keynote as they sing the famous Miller songs to authentic Miller arrangements. This concert will be a must for all concert goers.

Critical Function

Every newspaper has, as one of its major functions, criticism of events and circumstances which exist in the community which it serves. If one were to analyze past issues of the STATESMAN, he would come to the conclusion that this newspaper has not fulfilled this function. During the coming weeks the staff of this paper will attempt to remedy this situation. Through the addition of a column of our columnist, Lemme!, the STATESMAN will be better able to take a critical look at happenings on our campus and in the greater Duluth area.

Their assignment stated is this: give plausible when they are due and criticism where it is due. There is a place in the STATESMAN for negative thought.

Its only a nickel...

Many of you have noticed the stands placed in Kirby Student Center. In which the Duluth News Tribune appears every morning, for the convenience of those who like to read the paper when they get school.

The cost per paper isn't unreasonable. Only a nickel to the young man who is out delivering those papers before most of us have even thought about getting up, that nickel is very important. For he doesn't know that nickel is the one thing that will bring him that much closer to his goal.

But every time he has to pay for a paper which someone has taken without depositing a nickel, he moves that much farther away from his goal. Lately more and more of these papers have "disappeared" without the customary nickel being put in the metal box.

In the meantime, I am sure this young paper carrier is forming a fine opinion of adults and particularly those at UMD. Next time you want a paper why not try paying for it, and if it's just that you want the thrill of getting something for nothing, try a back; at least someone will be around to try and stop you.

Lemme! Lemme! Lemme!

Beginning next week's issue, the STATESMAN will institute a new feature for the service of its readers. Each week in a column entitled, "Let Me Do It," the STATESMAN will try to answer any questions which face its readers, concerning UMD and related topics. If our columnist, "Lemme!", doesn't know the answer he will find out who does and pass it on to you.

Recently the Granada theater ran a movie entitled "Blue Denim," the story of two nice kids who got in trouble.

If this picture was meant to be a portrayal of American life Mr. Kiser is afraid that I have never lived in America. At the outset the audience is immediately made aware that the parents of the principal boy and girl do not understand them.

The movie goes on to show the circumstances leading up to their trouble and as the movie goes on they slide off into the distance to get married. The young man playing the principal role appears even younger than he was obviously meant to be in the movie. Coral Lindley, who portrays the young lady involved, tries hard to lean on the young man but here physically maturity over-shadowed him.

However, this show is just another example of how American West Coast magnets have decided to portray the American teen-age and his 'un-understandable' parents.

What effect will this show have on this teen-age set towards whom the movie is obviously aimed? Because the movie has a "happy" Hollywood ending it appears that when this situation arises it all works out in the end. And in the movie our hero gets a few dollars from his father and joins his girl on the train.

Unfortunately this does not always happen. It's possible that daddy may not suddenly become "understanding" and also a "few" dollars doesn't go too far, for a couple of kids in their mid-teens.

Even with modern transportation it's a big world.

Bag Lunches to be Discontinued

Effective Monday, Oct. 12, food services for bag lunches will be eliminated in the ballroom. This was decided after more than an hour's discussion at the year's first meeting of the Kirby Student Center Policy committee. This committee is composed of students and staff and is responsible for the policies governing the operation of Kirby and its programs.

There was no doubt that the ballroom service did relieve pressure in the cafeteria and was of distinct benefit to the students. The major problem, however, was that many luncheons for conferences, seminars, workshops, and other programs require the use of the ballroom. Also the bag lunch service would be very erratic. The variable use of the ballroom would throw a burden on the cafeteria without creating a need for students to adjust their eating schedules to avoid noon hour congestion.

By adopting a consistent policy, which consolidates food services in the cafeteria, it was felt that students who have the hour before and following noon free would soon elect to eat early or late and avoid the crowds between noon and one o'clock. It was agreed that with the addition of seating for 100 more students in the cafeteria and the establishment of a beverage bar in those with bag lunches could try by-pass the serving lines, the present enrollment could be accommodated.

Of even greater concern to the committee was the impending cafeteria seating problem which will face them next year and in subsequent years. The house committee headed by Frank Borsil will study more food service problem with traffic counts and investigations into possible solutions.

NOTABLE NOTES

Fall quarter calendar will be available at Kirby Desk next week.

The Homecoming Committee needs convertibles for the parade — if you have one available call the Homecoming office or stop in.

Watch for the Anthology of Jazz.
Bulldogs Down Pipers 14-0

The injury-tired UMD Bulldog football team improved through a day nani first half performance; then struck the scoring column toward a C-junior scored a key field goal and half to down a weak Hamline University eleven, 14-0, in St.
Paul last Saturday afternoon.

The effort was not up to par for UMD, although the gridders managed to remain in the MIAC title race, as powerful Gustavus Adolphus trampled a highly-rated Concordia squad, 36-14. This placed UMD in a tie for second place in conference standings with a 3 and 1 mark.

WRA News

By KATHY BURNS

Many students at UMD have misconceptions concerning college organizations. They think that fraternities do nothing but drink, religious organizations nothing but preach, and, to make an active UMD student, "Women's Recreation Association makes out of girls."

The latter organization is the see about which I am going to tell you and straighten out
any fallacies.

During orientation week WRA sponsored the Rockfest, had a booth at the freshman carniable, and posted announcements and posters about which I am going to tell you and straighten out
any fallacies.

The second week of school
found WRA members at a planish. There were made at an alumni tea; homecoming feast; and support of our homecoming candidate, Marlene Snyder. Other events planned are the Christmas party, eat-a-ban.
at and awards banquet.

Now that you know more about our organization, watch for announcements and posters concerning meetings and social events. Mere attendance will open the doors for seeing more girls at our meetings!

Hopes Dim

Marsh Cohen & Harry Fischman
UMD's hopes for their first MIAC football championship look doubtful at this time. To win the title the Bulldogs must
win the title the Bulldogs must against Concordia, St. Johns, St. Thomas and Macalester, and hope that league-leading Guas Adolphus falls along the way. Chances of this happening, however, appear slim, as the Gusties have already defeated their two top challengers, UMD and Concordia, and seem to stand on head and shoulders above their remaining opponents.

At the moment UMD is tied with the Cobbers from Concordia for second place in the conference standings. The showdown clash between these two teams comes Saturday night.
October 18th, at Moorhead. Geting on the performance of both teams against Gustavus, UMD appear to have about a one-touchdown edge in this important encounter. Due to the fact, however, that this Concordia's homecoming game, the Cobbers should be favored by a slight margin.

The Battling Bulldogs cannot show anything of late due to this year's title chase though,
since anything can happen.

Sports In General

By Tony Fiskett

The calendar shows just 12 days remaining until Homecoming at this writing. It seems that hearty thanks are due to UMD Provost Dr. Raymond Dardall. Homecoming officials stated this week that Dr. Dardall had taken them out of a few jams. This gentleman is a b in e r, and is a wonderful teacher. The story of this gentleman is his courage to help me, and his confidence in me that I can make this program a success.

I knew it, and I'm sure that the students here will agree with me.

The UMD hockey team will have a colorful schedule this year. Puck coach Ralph Romano said that the team will play the U. of S. Olymipis, Michigan Tech, and the Japanese Olympics in feature tilt.

Gustavus Adolphus football machine may appear to have the UMD title wrapped up again,
but the Gusties have two tough competitors — UMD and Con-

Spraking the UMD football squad this year are the new co-captains of the Bulldogs, seniors Lino Raui and John Drazenovich.

Rauti, a small fiery lineman, was a standout at guard for UMD last year. One of the highlights in his 1956 season came during the UMD homecoming game against St. Thomas, when he made a key intereception and saved the victory for the Bulldogs. Before coming to UMD, Raui attended Brebeth Junior College.

Drazenovich is slated for the starting fullbak slot this year. John, after being an all-state selection at Nashwau, went to Benjilili, State, where he lettered in 1954. Then he went into the Army and spent three years in Germany, before coming to UMD.

Last year Drazenovich gained a total of 269 yards in 47 attempts for a 4.4 yard average. In the first two games this year he has compiled a total of 119 yards in 22 attempts for a 5.5 arverage.

Although injuries have held back both Rauti and Drazenovich to this point, both gridders should figure heavily in UMD's remaining contests.

intramurals

So you want your organization to have intramural sports? First of all, you have to form an independent team. Sign up sheets are on the bullelets, and there is a bulletin board on the Men's side of the Foy Ed. building. If there are any questions, talk to either Dr. Ward Wolfe of the Athletic staff or Ray Michtolajch, athleti commissioner of the UMD-BA.
